CLARK TO FIGHT REPEAL MEASURE

Bitter Contest Renewed in House of Representatives Today.

ATTACK FLASH IN PAN.

Wilson's Supremacy Unshaken by Statement of Speaker, Speeches of Underwood and Others.

Washington, March 28.—The tolls repeal battle was renewed in the House today, the Administration forces occupying a strategic position because of the victory they won yesterday in putting through a special rule for the consideration of the repeal bill.

The House will swing into its stride of debate this afternoon. About seventeen hours yet remain in which to discuss the repeal proposal, and it is estimated that the vote on repeal will not come before Tuesday afternon.

Unless there should be some unexpected developments, the Administration will have a safe lead when the final vote is taken.

Speaker Clark, whose statement against the rule caused a rumpus and accentuated the split in the Democratic party over the tolls controversy, has decided to make a speech against the repeal bill. He will take the floor Tuesday, according to present plans, and probably will be the last speaker heard in opposition to the Wilson program.

Interest in the repeal fight seemed undiminished today, and the attendance was large, both upon the floor and in the galleries.

Washington, March 28.—President Wilson triumphed by a safe margin in his first battle with recalcitrant Democrats of the House yeterday, and from the predictions made by his leaders he will win his tolls fight by a wider margin when the final test of strength comes.

The bitter asault made by Speaker Clark upon the advocates of repeal failed to shake the strength of the Adminjstration. It proved to be a futile flank movement, a flash in the pan, a rocket bursting in mid-air.

That was the sum total of the effect of the Speaker's attack, in so far as it bore upon the votes cast yesterday. It was the first break between the Speaker and the President.

Two votes demonstrated the President's commanding influence with his party in Congress on the first test, a motion to ned debate nad preclude amendment on the rule, carried by a vote of 207 to 176; the rule itself was adopted by 200 to 172.

Nothing to compare with the scene had occured in the House since the famous Cannon rules fight four years ago. In vain Representative Underwood took the floor and urged his colleagues to vote against the rule. The rank and file Democrats after listening to three hours of passionate argument, swung into the President's column, 199 of them voting to prevent the amendment of the special rule, while only 55 followed the leader in going with the minority in opposition.

NEGRO PUT TO DEATH.

Walter Boyd Forfeits Life for Killing One Benjamin Franklin.

Richmond, March 28.—Walter Boyd, a Richmond negro, went to his death in the electric chair here yesterday for the murder of Benjamin Franklin, another negro, who was killed December 13.

Boyd was tried for his life in hustings court here and sentenced January 26 by Judge Richardson. An ineffectual attempt was made yesterday by men interested in the doomed man to induce Governor Stuart to spare the negro's life.

Mr. Stephen Taylor, who has been quite sick at his home in north Pitt [illegible], is able to be out again.

WORKERS TO BE DISCHARGED.

"All Big Gun" Warships Cause 125 Gun Factory Men to Lose Their Jobs.

April 9 has been announced as the date for the dismissal of 125 employes of the Washington navy yard, a prospective decrease in the working force which has been expected for some time. This reduction does away with the plan of each mechanic being laid off for some part of the work period to allow other men an equal chance to earn a living.

While it is proposed to do away with a method of providing for an excessive number of workmen and to place the operations of the navy yard on a normal basis, providing a full working period for each man, the new arrangement is made with the expectation that two dreadnaughts will be provided for by the present Congress, providing for the making of guns that will provide normal work for the navy yard gun factory.

Should Congres sdelay the passage of the bill many furloughs will be necessary in the working force. Should Congress provide for only one battleship the reduction of gun making work would probably cause a further reduction in force. In the remote possibility that Congress will not provide for any battleship with its guns a third of the working force will have to find work elsewhere,which it is believed, means leaving Washington.

The development of the all "big guns" slip is responsible primarily for the dismissal of 125 men who will lose their jobs April 9,. The new dreadnaught type of warship, though vastly more powerful than the old-style battleship, even of similar displacement, has less than half as many guns, it is explained. Consequently there is less work at the navy yard gun factory, where all the guns are turned out.

The 125 men who will be discharged April 9 will have two weeks' notice. The selection of those to go will be made by the master mechanics of each shop, after consultation with the quartermaster and leadingmen.

FAMOUS VETERAN DEAD.

Col. Robert M. Stribling, One of Confederacy's Heroes, Dies in Fauquier Home.

Colonel Robert M. Stribling, famous Confederate veteran, for many years prominent as a political leader, died yesterday at his home, "Mountain View," at Markham, Fauquier county.

Colonel Stribling is survived by his wife, two daughters and one son. He was an uncle of Mrs. K. W. Barrett, of this city.

Colonel Stribling was one of the most famous artillery officers of the Army of Northern Virginia, and is mentioned frequently in the battle reports of the War Between the States. His original command was known as the Fauquier Battery, from the county in which it was organized, but it was soon called after the name of its captain, and, as "Stribling's Artillery."

After Second Manassas, Captain Stribling was attached to the famous battalion commanded by Major Dearing, and served with Longstreet's Corps. Accompanying the command in the Suffolk campaign, Captain Stribling was cut off from the rest of Longstreet's men, and, after a desperate fight, was himself captured. Several of the cherished guns of his battery, the pride of the corps, were also taken by the Federals.

When Captain Stribling was exchanged, he reorganized his command, and was presented by the government with six magnificent Napoleon guns, the best that could be procured at the Richmond Arsenal. These guns his men carried with them during the Getysburg campaign. Captain Stribling, himself ,from a stragetic position on the Confederate line, led in the artillery duel which preceded the memorable charge of Pickett's Division

Returning to Virginia with the army, and promoted for his splended valor, he served in the defense of Petersburg, and was with his command until the end of the war.

Since that time he had resided in Northern Virginia, where he has been active in public life.

GOVERNOR VETOES POWER OF BOARD

Disapproves Bill, Which Executive Calls Misleading And Void.

IN BEHALF OF ALLENS.

Attorney General Holds Measure Unconstitutional Even With Senate Amendment Tacked to it.

Richmond, Va., March 28.—On the ground that it was plainly unconstitutional, misleading in its title, and an improper effort to divert the powers of the executive, Governor Henry C. Stuart yesterday vetoed Senate bill 442, which authorized the board of directors of the State Penitentiary to parole prisoners after they had served three years of their term. In an extended written opinion, Attorney-General John Garland Pollard not only holds that the bill is unconstitutional with act of 1914,under which the prison board has released hundreds of convicts after they had served one-half of their sentences.

The bill in question, while general in its application, is alleged to have been drawn and introduced at the instance of the sympathizers of the Allen outlaws, who hoped in this indirect way to secure the release of those now in the penitentiary after they had served three years out of terms varying from eighteen to thirty-six years. The "joker" was caught in the Senate by Senator B. F. Buchanan, of Smyth county, who secured adoption of an amendment exempting from operation of the proposed act those convicted of murder in the first degree, criminal assault or highway robbery. Had the bill been approved the three-year clause would have been applied to those convicted of attempted criminal assault, embezzlement, attempted murder, insurrection, treason, perjury, abduction, arson, betrayal, kidnapping, bribery and to many other crimes for which the statutory punishment varies from ten to eighteen years in the penitentiary.

The bill was actively supported on the floor of both houses of the General Assembly by the penitentiary board, at least one member having actively lobbied in its behalf before and after the adoption of the Buchanan amendment. The effort further to usurp the powers of the executive has resulted not only in the veto of the bill itself, but in the careful study of the authorities by the Atorney-General, lading to the announcement that the present parole law under which prisoners are released conditionally after having served half of their terms, is unconstitutional and void. Since these releases were made in good faith,under an act supposed to be valid, it is believed that they cannot be questioned,and that those prisoners released cannot be brought back to serve out their sentences unless their paroles are violated, but in the future, under the opinion of the Attorney-General, only the Governor can pardon, comute or parole a prisoner who has been sentenced to prison for a definite term by due process of law.

VILLA VICTOR IN DESPERATE FIGHT

Forces Way Into Gomez Palacio in Three Desperate Attacks.

LEADS THE LAST RUSH.

Final Struggle in Streets of Town is a Blind Delirium of Slaughter—Odor of Blood.

Gomez Palacio, Mexico, March 28.—Four days of fighting, including three desperate assaults by the rebels, were crowned with success yesterday, when Gen. Francisco Villa moved into the city and established his headquarters on that side of the town looking toward Torreon, and within three miles of that great goal of the campaign.

The final and deciding assault was delivered Thursday. It was preceded by a bombardment, after which the infantry and cavalry dashed into the streets. Rifles, machetes, pistols and hand grenades were used in 100 different encounters in the narrow thoroughfares. The grenades of home-manufacture, were lighted with the cigarettes which are an unofficial part of the equipment of every Mexican soldier.

General Villa does not yet know his own loss, except that it was heavy. The wounded suffered terribly from thirst, and may die for the lack of water and surgical attention.

The dead of both sides were mingled in the streets or found huddled under the piles of earth which had once been adobe houses or corrals wrecked by rebel shells. Veterans say that no more furious battle eve was fought in Mexico. It was a delirium.

The day was hot and the air fairly smelt of stale blood.

THE FRANK CASE.

Friends Claim Condemned Man Can Established an Alibi.

Atlanta, March 28.—In the notice for a new trial filed by counsel for Leo M. Frank now under sentence of death for the murder of fourteen-year-old Mary Phagan, three witnesses are named who ,it is claimed, will establish a positive alibi for Frank. Several others are to testify to the alleged "shaping" of testimony by Solicitor Dorsey and State detectives, while others will give testimony tending to throw suspicion on Jim Conley, the negro who was the chief witness against Frank.

Positive declarations that they saw Frank at the corner of Whitehall and Alabama streets between 1:03 and 1:05 o'clock on the afternoon of the murder are made by Samuel A. Pardee, salesmanager for the Cotton States' Belting and Supply Company; a Mrs. Jaffe and Mrs. Ethel Harris Miller, all of whom are acquainted with the prisoner. Conley testified that he left Frank in his pencil factory at 1:30 o'clock on that afternoon.

Mary Rich, a colored woman, who conducts a small restaurant, declares she saw Conley coming from the rear of the factory at about 2:15 on the afternoon of the murder. Conley swore he left the factory by the front door at 1:30 and went home. The Rich woman says she sold Conley a dinner and that he then went back to the factory by the way he had come. This is held to explain the mystery of the broken lock on the back door of the basement of the building.

C. Bruts Dalton nad Marie Karst, who gave damaging testimony regarding Frank's conduct with girls in the factory, now admit that they were intimidated by the solicitor and detectives for the prosecution. Others of the State's witnesses have made similar admission.

The statement of Dr. H. F. Harris that careful microscopial examination of the strand of hair found on a lath on the second floor of the factory was entirely unlike that of the murdered girl, also forms an important part of the motion for a new trial.

New York, March 28.—William J. Burns, the detective, left last night for Atlanta, Ga., where he is to make a complete report of his investigation of the murder of little Mary Phagan, for which Leo M. Frank, a former Brooklyn boy, has been sentenced to be hanged.

It was reported that Burns had discoverd at least one new and important witness in New York.

Burns was silent when questioned about his plans.

He admitted, however, that he had been devoting all of his time to the Frank case for several days. He admitted that his trip here had been even more successful than he had hoped for, but refused to discuss what he had accomplished.

May 1 has been designated as Stonewall Jackson Monument Day throughout Virginia, for the purpose of subscribing by private donations funds to erect a memorial to the Confederate leader in Richmond.

STUART SIGNS FEE REFORM BILL

First Statute to Limit Amounts Paid to Officers in Virginia.

CARRIES AMENDMENT.

New Law Will Not go Into Effect in Capital City Until End of Present Term of Incumbents.

Richmond, Va., March 28.—Governor Stuart yesterday signed the West fee reform bill, the first statute ever put on the books in Virginia placing a limit on the amounts fee officers may receive for their services, or providing for any method by which the taxpayers might learn what the officials get. The bill was a compromise measure, and comes very far from meeting the wishes of those advocating fee reform. The limit has been set so high that comparatively few officers will be affected, the chief value in the bill as passed being in provision for publicity.

Amendments secured by the Richmond delegation provide that City Treasurer, James B. Pace, may receive $7,500 per year, and that the bill will not take effect as to officials in this city until the end of the terms for which they have been elected. As the court clerks have recently been reelected for eight-year terms,and other fee officers elected last year for four-year terms, which they have just begun to serve, it will be seen that save for the feature requiring a report of their receipts from the public, the bill will nave no immediate effect. The bill provides a maximum allowance for fee officers from $6,500 in cities having a population of 60,000 or more down to $4,000. Fees over and above the maximum are to revert to the treasury.

The ment of bill is in section 3, which requires all fee officers annually within fifteen days after the close of each anniversary of the begining of the terms of their respective offices to file with the auditor of public accounts a full and accurate statements, showing all such fees, allowances, commissions and salaries collected, and a like statement of such fees,salaries, commissions and allowances chargeable, but not collected

Statements filed with the auditor of Public Accounts under the act to be referred ot a special commission, consisting of the Governor, Auditor of Public Accounts and State Accountant, who shall serve on the commission without compensation. It is the duty of this commission to study and compare them, and to report to the next session of the General Assembly whether such offices are economically administered, what compensation should thereafter be paid, and how many deputies or assistants, if any, are necessary to the efficient performance of the duties of said officers, and what compensation should be allowed such deputies and what allowance should be made for expenses. An amendment provides that the act, in so far as it refers to maximum allowances to the fee officers, shall not take effect until January, 1, 1916.

DIRECTOR L. H. MACHEN

Alexandrian Receives Lucrative Position With Office in State Capitol

As was stated in a dispatch to the Gazette from Richmond yesterday, Lewis H. Machen, of this city, has been named as director of the Virginia Legislative Reference Bureau, the appointment being made by Governor Stuart. The appointment is effective on and after June 20th, when all the acts of the Legislative, except those with emergency clauses, become operative.

The state legislative bureau has been provided with a $10,000 appropriation to cover its expenses until the assembling of the legislature of 1916. Out of this sum the director receives an annual salary of $2,500, the remaining $5,000 being at his disposal to defray the current expenses of operating his office.

The director of the bureau will have offices in the Capitol or Library building and will have absolute and complete direction of the department. Under the terms of the act the director must be a lawyer who has had legislative experience.

The purpose of the bureau is to furnish information regarding acts of the Legislature, to prepare and supervise the drawing of bills for the members of the Legislature, to furnish and obtain information to and from other States regarding laws, their enforcement, effects and in general to be a sort of information bureau for the benefit of the people of the State, and also for those people of other States who may want to know the provisions and effects of laws in force in Virginia.

The bill was one which the Farmers' Co-Operative and Educational Union advocated and had about a score of patrons in the House when presented. In the Senate there were several persons who were active in their suport of the measure, it being enacted by a practically unanimous vote.

Westmoreland Davis, of Loudoun county, was the "father" of the bureau.

MRS. WILSON WINS.

Court Awards Her Special Prize at Poultry Show.

In an interesting suit heard today before Jusctice Julius Pelton, Mrs. H. P. Wilson, of New York, who has a large farm at Holland Farms, Fairfax county, four miles south of Alexandria, was awarded a verdict against the Agricultural and Live Stock Exhibition of Northern Virginia which recently held a poultry show in this city.

Mrs. Wilson was the largest exhibitor at the show, and was awarded a number of prizes . She was given the first prize, a building lot, for having the best award. Another prize, consisting of an electric stove, for the best exhibit of a person using current of the Alexandria County Lighting Co., was awarded to another exhibitor on the ground that Mrs. Wilson was not a user of the electric current. Evidence was introduced to show that Mrs. Wilson was a user of electric current. It was for this second prize that she sued.

An appeal was taken from Justice Pelton's decision to the Corporation Court by the association.

Mr. Wilson, who appeared to be in court for his wife, stated that the suit was brought by Mrs. Wilson as a matter of principle and that the value of the prize was not considered. He stated that all the prizes won by his wife would be turned over to the Children's Home and asked Justice Pelton to take the same action in reference to the stove in the case it was awarded to his wife.

There were a large number of spectators who were interested in hearing the evidence.

Mrs. Wilson was represented by Attorney Howard W. Smith, and the association by Attorney Harry B. Caton.

NEWS OF THE OLD DOMINION

VIRGINIA FARM LABORER.

He Doesn't Work as Hard as Agricultural Worker in Other States.

Washington, March 28.—Wages of farm laborers in Virginia have advanced from $15 to $16.10 per month with board and from $21.11 to $23.50 without board between 1909 and 1913, according to a statement issued by the agricultural department.

The scale of wages is higher in the West and North than in the Southern negro-labor states.

The agricultural department's bulletin says that in 1893 the Virginia scale was $9.48 per month with board, and $14.40 without board; in 1899, it was $10.43 with board and $14.82 without board; in 1909, it was $15 with board and $21.11 without bourd, and in 1913 it was $16.10 with board and $23.50 without board.

The Virginia farm laborers have much shorter hours than those in other states. In spring the average working day is nine hours and forty-five minutes; in the summer, ten hours and in the winter, eight hours and thirty-five minutes.

Wages average highest in the far Western states and lowest in the South Atlantic States. The monthly rate, without board, is $56.59 in Nevada, $54 in Montana, and $51 in Utah; but $17.90 in South Carolina, $19.60 in Mississippi, and $20.20 in Georgia.

MISS TYLER IN WASHINGTON.

Deposed Virginia Woman Visits the White House.

Washington, March 28.—The pathetic side of the operations of civil service rules in connection with fourth-class postmasters was personally and forcibly illustrated in the appearance at the White House yesterday in an effort to make a final appeal for herself, of Miss Mattie R. Tyler, seventy years old, granddaughter of former President Tyler, and postmaster at Courtland, Va., for seventeen years. She has been succeeded by B. A. Williams, who was named upon the recommendation of Representative Holland and other democrats, after passing an examination as required by civil service rules.

Courtland is a town of less than 900 inhabitants, but the postoffice pays a salary of about $700 a year, and has meant very much to the aged woman who is fighting to have President Wilson become personally interested in the matter.

Miss Tyler, whose father, John Tyler, was private secretary to former President Tyler, arrived in Washington yesterday morning on the Norfolk steamer, accompanied by Miss Sadie Cole and several friends. Miss Tyler's first day on a railroad train in twenty-five years was spent in going from Courtland to Norfolk, and her first ride in an automobile was taken when those with her engaged a taxi and drove to the White House.

Miss Tyler was received by Assistant Secretary Brahany, who suggested that she write her request for an interview and state her case fully, when the matter would be placed before the President, and she would hear from the matter.

Postmaster General Burleson, on reaching the White House for the cabinet meeting was told about Miss Tyler's call. "I do not know anything about her case," said Mr. Burleson. "It comes under the civil service regulations. We have had many sad cases, and instances have been called to my attention of old soldiers, Confederate and others, losing their places through the new rules. We do not make exceptions however, no matter what the conditions are. If the meanest republican stands the best examination for a postoffice and is qualified through character and standing, he gets the postoffice, President Wilson, so far as I know, has not made a single exception and we insist upon the law being fairly carried out."

Assistant Postmaster General Roper, who handled the case from the beginning, said civil service laws, regulations had been fully complied with and that the case was closed, the commission of Mr. Williams having been sent to him March 24.

NEGRO TEACHER KILLED.

Shot by Young Colored Man With Whom He Boarded.

Bedford City, Va., March 28.—John Langhorn, teacher of the colored school at Cifax, was killed a few days ago by colored youth named Thompson, at the home of the latter where Langhorn boarded.

The nature of the difficulty between them could not be learned. Langhorne was shot in the neck with a 32-calibre gun while standing on the porch of the house and died in a short time. Thompson was brought here and lodged in jail to await trial. The remains of Langhorn were sent to his home at Hollins for interment. He was about 40 years of age, and a most respectable, intelligent man.

It is rumored that Thompson accused Langhorn of attempting to take advantage of his sister and the quarrel issued which resulted in the killing of the school teacher.

STRUCK BY BASEBALL.

Suffolk Boy, With Only One Good Eye, Victim of Tragic Accident.

Suffolk, Va., March 28.—Reginald Wright, Jr:, the 17-year-old son of Reginald Wright, of Hill Point, was brought to suffolk a few days ago by his father, his eye terribly injured by a baseball.

The ball, after being batted, struck a tree, rebounded, and glancing off, struck young Wright square in the eye.

The tragic part of the whole affair is that, two years ago, the boy was struck in the other eye by a piece of dynamite cap, and blinded. He bore his loss at that time with manly fortitude, but when the good eye was struck with perhaps the worst to fear, he suffered intensely from the shock.

NEGRO KILLS MURDERER.

Victim Was Wanted to Answer the Charge of Murder.

Norfolk, Va., March 28.—Wanted for the murder of Tom Archer, colored, early Thursday morning, Luther Collins, also colored, was himself killed yesterday. His slayer was Arnold Walker, a colored employe of the Chesterfield Veneer Works, in Norfolk county, who afterward gave himself up to the police and is being held for the Norfolk county authorities at the Second Precinct station. Eyewitnesses say that Walker shot Collins in self-defense, after Collins had fired three shots at him.

$50,000 FOR EXHIBIT.

Mansion at Mount Vernon is to Be Reproduced at San Francisco.

Richmond, Va., March 28.—A reproduction of the historic mansion house at Mount Vernon will be one of the features of the Virginia exhibit at the Pan-American exposition at San Francisco. The bill which recently passed the State legislature appropriating $50,000 for Virginia's exhibit at the exposition has been signed by Governor Stuart.

Within a short time the Governor will name three commissioners who will be in charge of the construction of the Virginia building and installation of exhibits therein.

Opium smuggling netted $170,000 to 16 customs men under charges in San Francisco, it is charged.

WILL PROBE POLICE FORCE.

Norfolk Mayor to Begin Investigation Monday.

Norfolk, Va., March 28.—Mayor W. R. Mayo will begin Monday an investigation of the Norfolk police force. Charges against Chief of Police Kizer, Captain Ford and Captain Mayo and several patrolmen are to be probed. One of the charges made at an investigation conducted by a committee from the Board of Aldermen, was that a 14-year-old girl was dragged into a place of bod repute against her will, and the police refused to interfere because there was no warrant in the case.

Captain Ford is assused of accepting "presents" from a man for recovering stolen property and is also alleged to have sought information relative to the organization of railway clerks in the interest of several corporations. Several members of the organization lost their positions when their employers learned they were members of the organization, and it is charged that Captain Ford was responsible.

The officers deny the charges and say they are inspired by political enemies.

TWO ENTIRE FAMILIES HELD.

Eight Men and Women Arrested as Chicken Thieves.

Wytheville, Va., March 28.—Dick Halsey and three sons, S. C., Frank and String; Mrs. Lizzie Felty and daughter, Daisy, and two sons, Kent and Edward, who live near here, are under arrest, charged with stealing corn and chickens from R. C. Kent, a farmer near here. Clifton Hogan, a Roanoke detective, worked up the case. He is said to have accompanied String and Frank Halsey when they robbed Mr. Kent's chicken house Thursday. Sheriffs Davison and Umberger were on hand to arrest them.

The prisoners are alleged to have confessed to various thefts, implicating the others. All gave bonds this afternoon for appearance at a preliminary trial today.

Dick and S. C. Halsey are merchants at Crockett Cove.

DAMAGES FOR LOSS OF LEG.

Former Employe of Chesapeake And Ohio Given Verdict for $25,000.

Charlottesville, Va., March 28—Asa P. Carnahan, of this city, has received a verdict in his suit against the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad Company for $25,000. Mr. Carnahan was injured in a collision at Doswell on March 27, 1913. He was fireman on the engine which collided with some freight cars left unguarded on the main track. His leg was caught between the boiler head and the tender, and so severely bruised and burned as to make amputation above the knee necessary Suit was instituted in December last in the Circuit Court of Hanover county under the employers' liability act of Congress, for $35,000 damages. The case was tried on March 24, and Mr. Carnahan received a verdict on which Judgment has been entered for $25,000. This is perhaps the largest verdict for a single similar injury that has ever been recovered in Virginia.

EXPENSES OF THE STATE GOVERNMENT.

The energy with which state officials have demanded listing and taxing in the commonwealth during the past year or two has caused many long-suffering tax-payers uneasiness and to wonder if the legislature will ever reach its ne plus ultra. The schedule of taxation is being elongated all the time, and the outcome of the deliberations of the tax commission as well as the fruits of the labors of the extra session of the General Assembly next year are causing no little apprehension.

The creation of a legislative reference bureau in the Old Dominion had escaped the notice of most readers of the sayings and doings of the constitutional tinkers at the last session of the legislature, and the announcement yesterday of the appointment of Lewis H. Machen, of this city, as director of such a bureau at a salary of $2,500 a year caused some surprise. Most of the readers of the Gazette were unaware of the fact that such an adjunct to the state government existed, and the great majority were unable to define its purposes.

The late General W. H. F. Lee, who represented the Alexandria district in Congress at a time when democrats had no more show than the traditional stump-tail bull, seeing that the pasage of a republican tariff bill was inevitable, said, while he was in favor of free trade, so long as every branch of commerce was to be protected, he wanted Virginia sumac treated in a similar manner, and requested that that product be put on the list.

About all that can be said in this city is, that if the state is to be saddled with a reference bureau we are glad an Alexandrian has been appointed.

The last legislature appropriated $10,000 for the maintenance of this office. The bill is iron clad— only a lawyer with some legislative experience is eligible for the position.

It is alleged by friends of the bureau that not one fifth of the men sent to the legislature are capable of preparing a bill, and that this new department will fill a long-felt want. This is a sad commentary on legislative timber in Virginia.

REVIVALS MUST BEGIN AT HOME.

Rev. Dr. James I. Vance, formerly pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church in Alexandria, is profoundly impressed with the conviction that the church is losing force because seriously lacking in genuine, far-reaching sympathetic alliance with the home; and that it is thus proceeding under a distinctly prejudicial condition which should prove of grave concern to people generally. Speaking at the Mid-Winter Bible Conference in Philadelphia a few nights ago, Dr. Vance asserted the startling conclusion that "the Christian home is in a state of collapse." "We have a greater need for revival of the Christian home" he continued, "than for a revival of good government. We have a greater need for a revival in the home than for the study of eugenics. Nor do we need a revival of philanthropy, since this has become such a pressing problem to our multimillionaries that they employ experts to assist them in the wise distribution of their millions. We need something more potent than philanthropy. We need something greater than a revival in the church, although that is desperately needed. This revival of religion in the home is the greatest need.

NEW SOCIOLOGY AND RELIGION.

At the Baltimore Conference yesterday Bishop Denny warned the conference not to confuse the new sociology for religion. "You can do all social work," he said, "and not win a single man from the devil's ranks. You cannot substitute sociology for the Gospel of the Son of God, It it true that you are doing some of God's work in wiping the dirt off a child's face or tying up his sore toe, but you cannot do that kind of work alone and consider yourself a man of God." The Bishop also warned against the dangers of sensationalism.

The truth of Bishop Denny's observations should be apparent to all denominations. Sociology has nothing to do with the claims of Christianity, and the assembling of crowds for the purpose of listening to addresses on indifferent subjects adds nothing to the kingdom of heaven.

OBITUARY.

SAMUEL M. ENGLISH.

It is fitting that we say a few words in tribute to the late Samuel Millson English. He was of an old English family—an only son—and was born at Wadesville, Schuykill county, Pennsylvania, August 31st, 1837, and died February 23rd, 1914, at his home in Montgomery county, Md. When a young man he came south and had since resided here. For a number of years he conducted a sand and steamboat business on the Potomac river where he was well known. He was a man of sterling worth, rare discernment and strong personality. In many ways he was an extraordinary man. He was self-educated and for an untrained reader had few equals.

Blessed with a retentive memory, he was often asked to quote from this book that he loved which he did with ease. He was an excellent business man, and truly the poor man's and widow's friend.

Years ago he identified himself with the Free Methodist Church and remained a consistent member until his death. Of late years he had been deprived of a great deal. On account of ill health, he had to retire from business and frequent attacks of grippe and asthma had caused him to spend much of his time quietly in his home in Maryland.

His last years were spent in prayer and reading of God's word. His death was due to weakness resulting from grippe.

His funeral took place from the Trinity Methodist Church near his home, and was conducted by the Rev. George Eakins, an old friend—assisted by several other ministers.

Rev. Mr. Eakins preached a beautiful and most impressive sermon, and the others paid high tribute to his memory. He was laid to rest in the cemetery at Rockville, to await the final resurrection of the just.

We rejoice that his star shall shine down through countless ages, for God hath said "he that endureth to the end, shall be saved."

One who loved him.

HER FRIEND'S GOOD ADVICE

The Results Made This Newburg Lady Glad She Followed Suggestion.

Newburg, Ala.—"For more than a year," writes Myrtle Cothrum, of this place, "I suffered with terrible pains in my back and head. I had a sallow complexion, and my face was covered with pimples. Our family doctor only gave me temporary relief.

A friend of mine advised me to try Cardui, so I began taking it, at once, and with the best results, for I was cured after taking two bottles. My mother and my aunt have also used Cardui and were greatly benefited.

I shall always praise Cardui to sick and suffering women."

Cardui is a purely vegetable, perfectly harmless, tonic remedy for women, and will benefit young and old.

Its ingredients are mild herbs, having a gentle, tonic effect, on the womanly constitution.

Cardui has helped a million women back to health and strength.

Have you tried it? If not, please do. It may be just what you need.

NEWS OF THE DAY

Eighteen of the crew of the French steamer St. Paul were drowned yesterday. The steamer struck a rock and sank while entering the port of Brisbane ,Australia, according to a Llod's London dispatch. The St. Paul was on the way from Noumea to Sydney.

A dramatic suicide at sea was reported by the commander of the White Star liner Oceanic, when the vessel arrived at Plymouth, England from New York. Thomas Farnsworth became suddenly insane at the height of a terrific storm and plunged into the ocean. The vessel was stopped and efforts made to rescue him, but after a long search the boats had to abandon the search.

Patrolman John Fesmics was shot and perhaps fatally wounded late yesterday in Philadelphia, by Harry Schmidt, forty years old, his prisoner. Schmidt was identified later by several girls at "Jack the Hugger," who has been annoying women in the northeast section of the city for the last three weeks.

A dispatch from Brunsbuettel, Germany, says eleven workmen were drowned yesterday when a suspended cable car fell into a lock of the Kiel Canal while they were crossing from one side to the other.

Huck, the airman, yesterday at Northampton, England, flew upside down for two miles. He had previously taken his 2-year-old niece for a flight.

Robert M. Friedman, a civil engineer, fell or jumped yesterday from the twenty-fourth floor of the new municipal building in New York, landed on the cornice of the twelfth floor, and was instantly killed.

Mrs. John Zorn, of Listonburg, a mining town near Meyersdale, Md., fell into an open coal fire yesterday when stricken with epilepsy. The fire was not sufficient to ignite her clothing and the woman lay there unconscious while her limbs were slowly roasted. She was found by a neighbor and later gave birth to a baby girl which lived but a few hours. Mrs. Zion's chances of recovery are slight.

Twenty pupils and their teacher were burned and stunned by lightning which struck a school building at Wyandotte, near Upper Sandusky, Ohio, yesterday. Every pupil was knocked to the floor and many of them were rendered unconscious for several minutes. Three pupils were seriously burned by the flash, and the teacher, was seriously injured. Others suffered minor injuries.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

Arrangements Complete for "Everystudent" and "The Princess"—Tickets Selling Fast.

Arrangements are complete for the plays that are to be given by he High School players on next Thursday and Friday nights at Westminster Hall. The productions are to be rather pretentious, and will be the result of many weeks' hard weeks. A one-act modern morality play called "Everystudent" will open the evening, followed by a dramatization of Tennyson's "The Princess" in six scenes.

This is the first dramatic attempt of the High School, and a large crowd is expected on the nights of the productions. Everything connected with the plays has been High School work, the characters, choruses, and scenic effects all coming from High School talent. The music and costumes are arranged by the teachers, who also coach the entire work in both plays. Over forty pupils will take part. The scenery, including an effort to produce an open fire and a rising full moon, together with two outdoor scenes, has all been planned and built by the work of the faculty and pupils.

The performance will be the same on both evnings, and will commence promptly at 8 p. m. From the present rate of the sale of tickets, the hall will be packed both nights So, come one, come all, and see the Alexandria High School players in their first dramatic production on Thursday and Friday evenings at the Westminster Building The tickets are twenty-five cents, and can be secured at Allen's drug store. Seats can be reserved for fifteen cents extra.

The regular meeting of the A. H. S. Literary Society, postponed from last Saturday, will be held tonight in the Lee School building. The subject for debate, is "Resolved, that it should be the policy of the U. S. to maintain one of the three largest navies of the world." The many arguments for and against it will be brought forth tonight in what is expected to be one of the best debates the society has yet had. This question is of vital interest to every one in the nation, as the support of a large navy will have to come from their pockets. Visitors now being allowed in the Society, anyone who wishes to come is at liberty to do so.

The girls of the Society will all declaim a selection from the Mercy Speech by Portia in "The Merchant of Venice." This drill is held to give the girls a good style of declaiming, as all their various faults and merits will be shown and pointed out to them for correction nad improvement. All the members of the Society are requested to atend tonight, and also to be on time at 7:30 p. m. sharp.

The High School baseball season will open on next Friday, April 3rd, at the Baseball Park. The first High School team will play the second team, which is being coached by Mr. Prettyman, and is showing up wonderfully in practice. A good game is expected. The practice the first team will get in a game like this will help them out wonderfully to win some of the games with the star teams they have on their schedule. The two or three games, which were to be played towards the end of this month, have had to be postponed on account of the uncertainty of the weather.

Maanger of Baseball Gulland has challenged in Perth Amboy, N. J., for games during the month of June. He has written a letter to the sporting editor of a daily paper there, which was duly published, and is expected to bring home the promise of a few games for the team during June, as they have no June dates on the schedule just as yet. The schedules of both the first and second teams, however, are almost full for April and May.

Typhoid Takes all Four Little Ones of Trenton Couple.

Trenton, March 27.—Typhoid fever yesterday claimed Joseph Toth, the youngest and the last child of Stephen and Mary Toth. All of the Toth children have died within a month. The death of Stephen, seven years old, was followed shortly by that of Charles, five years old, and Andrew, three years old. Typhoid fever was responsible for all of the deaths. REWICKING
Made Easy

EASY wicking is only one of the many improvements that make the new Perfection Oil Heater (Triangle trade mark) superior to any oil heater ever made before.

Wick and carrier are in one. Just turn up the old wick, slip it out and drop another in place.

PERFECTION SMOKELESS OIL HEATER

This New Model Perfection Heater is smokeless, odorless and economical.

The shape of the font, wide and shallow, allows the oil to pass readily up the wick and insures an even, glowing heat even when the font is almost empty. The font holds more than a gallon of oil and an indicator shows the amount of fuel left at a glance.

There is no smoke or smell with a Perfection. The automatic-locking flame-spreader prevents smoking. No gallery to unscrew, or catch oil and dust.

Made with vitreous blue enamel or plain steel drums. Ornamental, inexpensive, lasts for years. Easily cleaned and moved about.
